News

- By popular demand (well Jason and Ray) we are back. You'll note the slick new look but unfortunately it is the same tired old editorial team – however dulce et decorum est as they say.
- This week's cover is a motley set of Italian Condottieri from the Osprey (Warrior Series) book of the same name
- Next FoG book to be released will be Wolves from the Sea in February; those with Vikings start to dust them off now. Also those with Greater Moravian should, well get a life really 😊

About Last Night

- Well an exciting start to the year – Jason’s elephant heavy (in every sense) Classical Indian pounded Steve’s Rum Seljuq (as opposed to Rum Baba) – elephants amok in baggage, ouch! Ray’s Hamdanids were steamrollered by Terry’s Sassanids, Mike’s Tatars (all of Mike’s army bar 1 BG of LF was in a single rank deep battle line at one point – deep joy☺) drew against Dave’s NKE and finally Graham’s A*s (censored due to NDA issues) fought a bloody draw v my Foederate Romans – Roman commander was last heard saying “well they seem to have wiped out all our Germans but there doesn’t seem to be any bodies, but there is a lot going on top of that stepped pyramid in the distance
